103 Nations Give Nod To Buddhist

General Assembly Is Unanimous On Dag's Successor

By WILLIAM N. OATIS

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—U Thant of Burma was elected acting secretary-general of the United Nations Friday by unanimous vote of its 103 members.

The mild-mannered Buddhist diplomat was chosen by secret ballot of the General Assembly. He will serve until April 10, 1963, end of the five-year term of the late Dag Hammarskjold, who was killed in a plane crash in Africa Sept. 18. The job pays $55,000 a year in salary and allowances.

The assembly's action followed a unanimous recommendation by the Security Council.

The new acting secretary-general got a 30-second standing ovation from delegates and spectators on entering the packed blue and gold assembly hall.

Taking the oath of office, U Thant, 52, swore not to seek or accept instructions in regard to the performance of his duties "from any government, or other authority external to the United Nations."

In his acceptance speech soon after, he promised to maintain an attitude of objectivity in keeping with the policy of nonalignment of Burma, which he has represented here since 1957.

He also said he would invite a limited number of U.N. undersecretaries "to act as my principal advisers on important questions"—and they would include Ralph J. Bunche of the United States and Georgy P. Arkadev of the Soviet Union.

"It is also my intention," he declared, "to work together with these colleagues in close collaboration and consultation in a spirit of mutual understanding."

This, he said, "is without prejudice to such future organizational changes as experience may reveal to be necessary."

The key phrase of U Thant's statement was the part about a limited number of advisers.

U.S. Borrows Swiss Francs

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Treasury disclosed Friday it has borrowed $46.3 million in Swiss francs from the Swiss National Bank in a move to strengthen the dollar's international position.

The borrowing was the first of its kind since 1918, and was carried out last month without any announcement at the time. The transaction was revealed Friday in a statistical table published as part of the daily U.S. Treasury statement.

In essence, the borrowing was the result of cooperative American-Swiss efforts earlier this year to strengthen the dollar in relation to the Swiss franc. In the process, the U.S. government incurred obligations to supply Swiss francs in exchange for dollars at a later date. Since the Treasury's regular supply of foreign currencies is limited, it was necessary to borrow the required francs from the Swiss National Bank.

Since the Kennedy administration took office, officials of the Treasury and the Federal Reserve Board have developed close ties with European monetary authorities.

Harry S. Truman Declares He Is Missouri Character

TRENTON, N.J. (UPI)—Former President Harry S. Truman, bristling with commentary on subjects ranging from nuclear testing to Jesse James, came to New Jersey Friday to take the stump for Richard J. Hughes, Democratic candidate for governor.

Truman's visit, following President Kennedy's campaign appearance here Thursday night, was part of an all-out Democratic effort to swing Tuesday's election to Hughes. He is considered an underdog in the race with former Labor Secretary James P. Mitchell, the Republican candidate.

The former President engaged in a lively discussion with newsmen on whether the United States should resume atmospheric nuclear testing.

"I set that thing up," he said. "I never wanted them to quit."

Special Nuclear Appeal Made To Japanese By U.S.

By JOHN RODERICK

HAKONE, Japan (AP)—Secretary of State Dean Rusk appealed Friday for Japanese understanding if the United States is compelled to carry out nuclear tests in the atmosphere.

The American secretary told a crowded news conference many speakers at the recent Moscow Communist party congress predicted communism would dominate the world by 1980. He declared the world will not be safe "if nuclear superiority moves to those who intend to dominate the world."

"The other nuclear powers have no intention of dominating anyone," but are committed to the charter of the United Nations, he added.

Alluding to the atomic bombing of Hiroshima and Nagasaki in World War II as "special historical circumstances" which make nuclear tests a sensitive subject in Japan, Rusk said he hoped "there will be a degree of understanding of this difficult problem."

He urged Japanese to study President Kennedy's statement ordering preparations for possible atmospheric tests and understand the reasons behind it.

The news conference was held at the conclusion of a two-day session of the joint U.S.-Japan commission which brought seven American officials to this mountain resort for Cabinet-level discussion of trade and economic problems. This was the inaugural session of the commission created last summer by President Kennedy and Prime Minister Hayato Ikeda.

At the final economic talks, the emphasis was on the need for closer American and Japanese participation in aid programs to less-developed countries. The United States is urging Japan to step up such aid, especially in Asia.

Aiichiro Fujiyama, minister in charge of economic planning, said Japan will be in a position to allocate 2.9 per cent of her national output to foreign aid if she succeeds in her program of doubling the national income by 1970. He did not say how much this aid would be in terms of money.

Death Toll In Honduras Reaches 163

BELIZE, British Honduras (AP)—The death toll in hurricane-wrecked British Honduras reached 163 Friday and is expected to go higher, the government press officer reported.

The smell of death rose from thick mounds of debris in parts of this doomed capital.

The press officer said many persons remain on the missing list and that days and possibly weeks will be required to establish a complete casualty toll.

Heavily armed British soldiers flown in from Jamaica and Honduras police patrolled the streets with orders to shoot to kill any looters. Looting mobs have been raiding stores since Hurricane Hattie struck this British Central American colony Tuesday.

Police with loudspeakers roamed the wreckage-filled streets announcing that food distribution centers had been set up at 10 different sites in the city.

The government announced earlier that the capital will be moved inland 44 miles from the exposed Caribbean coast to higher ground. An estimated 75 per cent of Belize's buildings were destroyed or damaged. The property destruction was greater than the 1931 hurricane that leveled the city and filled more than 2,000 persons.

Adenauer Seen In Agreement On Coalition

BONN, Germany (AP)—Chancellor Konrad Adenauer patched up a compromise agreement for a new coalition government with the Free Democrats, but he faces a showdown in his restless Christian Democrat party Saturday on whether the pact is acceptable.

The plan worked out with the small, conservative and nationalistic Free Democrat party must be approved by a majority of the 242 Christian Democrat members of the Bundestag.

Many Christian Democrats were saying openly that the 85-year-old chancellor sacrificed their interests to stay in office.

The steering committee of the Christian Democrats in Parliament unanimously approved the new compromise, however. Political circles were predicting Adenauer will be elected to a fourth term, probably next Tuesday.

Jackie Kennedy To Visit In Pakistan And India

WASHINGTON (AP)—Jacqueline Kennedy, wife of the President, will leave around Nov. 20 for a visit of about two weeks to India and Pakistan, the White House announced Friday.

The announcement said the First Lady is going to the two countries "in a private and personal capacity" for the purpose of visiting educational and research centers and viewing the historical art treasures of these nations.

In India, she will be the guest of Prime Minister Nehru and his daughter, Indira Gandhi.

In Pakistan, she will be the guest of Field Marshal Ayub Khan and his begun.

The White House said Ayub Khan discussed this trip with Mrs. Kennedy during his July visit to Washington. Ambassador Kenneth Galbraith arrived in America from India this week for the upcoming Nehru visit and brought Nehru's invitation.

The details of Mrs. Kennedy's schedule have not yet been decided.

Royal Rebel As Usual Is On Schedule

Viscount Linley Fifth In Line To British Throne

By EDDIE GILMORE

LONDON (AP)—Princess Margaret—a royal rebel most of her life—became a mother Friday strictly on schedule and apparently without complications.

At 10:45 a.m. Margaret, 31, gave birth to a son. Weeks ago, she said her baby would be born either the last week in October or the first in November. Two days ago, she tied a blue-ribbon on the baby's cot. She was right once more.

Automatically, Princess Margaret's first-born became Viscount Linley. He is fifth in line of succession to the British throne.

"Both mother and baby are well," said an official announcement.

Asked the baby's Christian names, a Clarence House spokesman replied: "We don't know yet."

The Jones Boy
One London newspaper headlined: "The Jones Boy."

The baby weighed 6 pounds, 4 ounces, a court announcement said.

The princess was married May 6, 1960.

To reporters, the father, Lord Snowdon, also 31 said: "Everybody is absolutely delighted and could not be more thrilled."

Before he was made an earl by Queen Elizabeth II on Oct. 3, he was Antony Armstrong-Jones, a former society photographer.

It was Prince Philip, the baby's uncle, who probably best summed up the reaction of the royal family to the birth.

Told of the new arrival while he was on an official visit to Leeds the queen's husband said: "Oh, good. It's a great relief all around."

A talented individualist and non-conformist—within the closed ranks of royalty—Margaret has shown a strong streak of stubbornness since she became a teen-ager.

Royal Pressure

She fell in love with Group Capt. Peter Townsend, a divorced man. After considerable pressure by her family, she gave him up.

She met Antony Armstrong-Jones at a party—and something clicked besides his camera shutter. Quietly and secretly, they courted. If she met royal opposition, she overcame it.

Once engaged, she insisted her husband be given a title. He got it.

Margaret had her baby at Clarence House, Queen Mother Elizabeth's home, because the apartment the queen gave her rent-free at Kensington Palace is too small.

The queen wasn't at Clarence House for the birth. She was conferring knighthoods and other honors in a previously scheduled ceremony at Buckingham Palace.

She hurried over as soon as she could and spent 18 minutes at Clarence House.

Crowds flocked around Clarence House all day. Late in the day, they were still there. Newspapers carried big headlines announcing the birth.

Ethan Allen Rocket Tests Are Successful

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP)—Operating with almost split-second precision, the nuclear submarine Ethan Allen successfully launched three advanced Polaris missiles from beneath the Atlantic Ocean in less than three hours Friday.

The stubby rockets rode columns of compressed air to the surface at 9:02 a.m., 10:30 a.m. and noon. The first-stage engines ignited above the water and the second stages fired a minute later to propel the nose cones more than 1,500 miles to a target area near the West Indies island of Antigua.

The first rocket blasted off two minutes behind its planned schedule. The second and third scooted skyward right on time. The firings were conducted near Grand Bahama Island, about 300 miles south east of Cape Canaveral.

This leaves the Ethan Allen, newest and largest of the Polaris submarines, with an untarnished five-for-five launching record since its arrival last month to test the longer-range A2 Polaris.

The Navy plans several more firings of the Lockheed-made A2 from the Ethan Allen before the intended operational date of early 1962.

Jobless Rolls Show Decline

Unemployed Below Four Million

By NORMAN WALKER

WASHINGTON (AP)—Unemployment fell in October to below four million for the first time in a year—because of seasonal factors—but the Labor Department said the idle total could climb to over five million again during the winter.

The job figures normally make a good showing in October and there was no exception this year.

Employment rose by 786,000 to 67,824,000, a record for the month. Unemployment declined by 151,000 to 3,934,000, a drop about usual for October.

Unless the idle rate declines, Labor Department officials predicted, the jobless total will climb to 4.4 million in November, 4.5 million in December and 5.5 million in January. Such a January figure would top the 5,335,000 unemployed last January.

Nonfarm employment increased by 288,000 to 61,860,000 to set a record for October. Farm employment increased by about 300,000 to 5,964,000.

On the encouraging side small declines were reported both in the number of long-term unemployed and in the total of workers employed involuntarily on only a part-time basis.

The number of workers idled 15 weeks or longer dropped by 17,000 to 1,240,000. The part-time worker count declined by 139,000 to 2,333,000.

The record October employment total of 67,824,000 is about 335,000 higher than the prior mark set in October 1960.

AF Pilot Kills Family, Dog, Self
LINCOLN, Neb. (UPI)—An Air Force tanker pilot ran berserk with a 12-gauge shotgun Friday and killed his wife, their two children, the family's Great Dane and himself.

Police said Capt. Frank D. Picard, 28, gunned down the family pet, pursued his wife to a neighbor's home as she screamed "Help me, God, please help me," and killed her as she pleaded: "Let's talk this over."

Then the Strategic Air Command officer dashed back to his own bungalow, shot his son, Franklin Scott, 4, and daughter Andrea Kay, 2, in the face, and took his own life.

Children Launch World Appeal For Lasting Peace
NEW HYDE PARK N.Y. (AP)—"We the children of the world do not want to be the last generation. We do not want to die before we have had a chance to live."

With those words a group of children in this suburban New York City community are launching a program to get youngsters around the world to join in a peace appeal to the United Nations.

In three days, some 30 local youngsters have obtained the signatures of about 3,000 children on their petition. The signers are limited to those over 6 and under 21.

The petition was composed by several children living in the neighborhood of Hazel Kaufman, who is credited with the idea of the appeal from and by girls and boys themselves. She assisted the initial group in preparing the petition.

"We ask President Kennedy and Premier Khrushchev to meet at the United Nations, not for the purpose of telling each other how powerful they are but for the purpose of settling their differences."

Molotov Emerges From Seclusion

VIENNA (AP)—V. M. Molotov emerged from seclusion Friday for the first time since the Soviet Communist party congress in Moscow called for his expulsion from the party.

Stalin's longtime associate, who now is the Soviet representative with the International Atomic Energy Agency, left his apartment after six days there and drove to the Soviet embassy.

Maryland News Briefs

WESTMINSTER, Md. (AP)—The Carroll County grand jury has expressed alarm over "the number of cases of illegitimacy where the unwed mother is receiving welfare aid."

Disbanding after a seven-day session, the jurors' report to Circuit Judge James E. Boylan Jr. said:

"While we realize that the welfare program stems mainly from federal legislation, it is a matter of serious concern that there does not seem to be any restriction upon the manner in which the welfare recipients use the money which they receive from public funds."

BALTIMORE (AP)—The campaign committee for gubernatorial aspirant George P. Mahoney Friday appointed C. Lease Bussard of Frederick as local manager in that city and Howard J. Thomas, Silver Spring attorney, as manager for Montgomery County.

Thomas was county chairman of the Citizens for Kennedy and Johnson Committee in 1960 and chairman of the 1961 Dollars for Democrats drive. Bussard is president of the Alumni Association of Western Maryland College.

BALTIMORE (AP)—David Hume will take his campaign for the Democratic nomination for governor on television and radio starting Sunday.

He announced his opinions will be aired on television stations in Baltimore, Washington and Salisbury and a radio station in every Maryland city.

Two Maryland Banks Merge

BALTIMORE (AP)—The consolidation of two Maryland banking firms became official at the close of business today.

A special stockholders meeting called for November 14 will make "The Maryland National Bank", the official name for what was formerly the Baltimore National Bank and County Trust Company of Maryland.

Gov. Tawes Honored At St. Mary's

Junior College Pays Tribute

ST. MARY'S CITY, Md. (AP)—Gov. Tawes was honored Friday at the first Governor's Day program of St. Mary's Seminary Junior College.

The governor said he was "deeply moved" to be the first Maryland chief executive so honored.

In his prepared remarks, Tawes said St. Mary's County was the site of the first steps toward "two of civilization's greatest advancements"—freedom of worship and the recognition of women as a part of society.

"As Marylanders, we are proud that our ancestors, with feelings and beliefs well in advance of the age in which they lived, laid the groundwork for these two significant advancements," the governor said.

He said Margaret Brent, a resident of the county, "was the first American woman to demand the right to vote." The governor said the General Assembly denied her petition but, "nearly three centuries later, the people of this country... honored the plea she made by granting the voting franchise to women."

Tawes said the Maryland Legislature, meeting in St. Mary's City on April 2, 1649, passed "one of the first legislative acts granting to all citizens the freedom to worship God according to the dictates of their conscience."

"Religious freedom, as we know it in this country today, had to wait 140 years—until the adoption of the bill of rights in our constitution—to become a part of our national heritage. But the foundation for this noble guarantee of freedom was laid here in St. Mary's City..."

Comptroller Louis L. Goldstein, speaking on the same program, said our schools are the answer to today's struggle for power in the world.

"No matter how much our educational system costs today, it is worth every penny of the money when we realize that an educated citizenry is necessary to maintain our position in the world we live in," Goldstein said.

The comptroller said "the greatest force in making the American dream come true in the 185 years of our republic has been free education for the youth of our citizenry."

Pope John, 80 Marks Birthday

VATICAN CITY (AP)—Pope John XXIII, happily receiving expressions of homage and birthday greetings, called upon youth and leaders of nations Friday to work for peace, civilization and true progress.

The supreme ruler of the Roman Catholic Church was the center of ceremonies honoring his 80th birthday—Nov. 25—and the third anniversary of his coronation.

The Pope, appearing fully recovered from the light attack of influenza that forced him to cancel audiences last week, spoke three times—to 20,000 Catholic youth for whom he celebrated Mass in St. Peter's, to the College of Cardinals, and to the diplomatic corps accredited to the Vatican, representing nearly 50 nations.

The pontiff was obviously pleased as he listened to the homage and greetings of the diplomatic corps, expressed by its dean, Ambassador Leo Thomas McCauley of Ireland.

But the Pope said the duty "weighs upon all men to use well the time at their disposal to act in favor of peace, civilization and true progress."

CORE To Postpone Md. Freedom Ride If Restaurants Agree To Desegregate

BALTIMORE (AP)—The Congress of Racial Equality (CORE) offered Friday to postpone its scheduled Freedom Ride along Route 40 Nov. 11 if a substantial number of restaurants voluntarily desegregate.

The condition was announced after CORE leaders met for three hours secretly with the Maryland Commission on Interracial Problems and Relations.

CORE spokesmen refused flatly to postpone the ride until after the February session of the Maryland Legislature. The Legislature is to consider then a bill outlawing discrimination by any restaurant or hotel in Maryland.

"Should a substantial portion of the now segregated portion restaurants along U.S. 40—before Nov. 11—announce publicly that they will immediately desegregate, CORE will look favorably upon abandonment or postponement of the Freedom Ride," the statement read.

The Maryland Commission, which had invited CORE leaders to a discussion seeking cancellation of the ride, telegraphed restaurants on the highway between the New Jersey Turnpike and Baltimore.

The wire told of the CORE proposal and asked owners to reply by next Wednesday, "thus avoiding demonstrations in your place of business."

There are approximately 90 restaurants and motels along the highway in Maryland and Delaware.

The Maryland State Conference of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People (NAACP), supported the position taken by CORE but renewed their call on Gov. Tawes to call a special session of the Legislature to enact public accommodations legislation.

In a statement released last night, the Maryland Conference of the NAACP said:

"The Maryland State NAACP Conference supports the position of CORE on U. S. route 40 and, in addition, as Maryland citizens, voters and taxpayers with branches in 20 counties of the state, we renew our call upon Governor Tawes to convene a special session of the legislature to protect all colored citizens throughout the State of Maryland, as well as on Route 40, from the continuing shameful mistreatment we suffer when we seek service in places of public accommodation."

Retired Naval Officer Dies At Bethesda

ANNAPOLIS (AP)—C. Graham Halpine, retired naval officer and former State superintendent of buildings and grounds, died Friday at Bethesda Naval Hospital after a long illness.

Capt. Halpine, who was active in Republican politics and civic affairs in Annapolis, was building superintendent during the administration of former Gov. Theodore R. McKeldin.

He also was a former commodore of the Annapolis Yacht Club, and marshal of the Annapolis chapter of the Military Order of the World Wars.

A native of Massachusetts, Halpine was graduated from the Naval Academy in 1916. He is survived by his widow, two daughters, Mrs. John F. Eversole, Pulaski, Va., and Mrs. Charlene Hill, Annapolis; a sister, Mrs. F. W. Miller, Wilmington, Del., and a brother, Malcomb Halpine, North Weymouth, Mass.

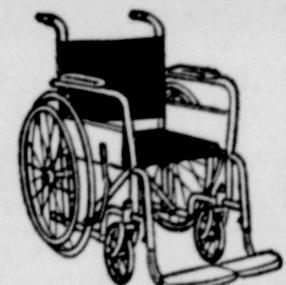

Funeral arrangements were incomplete.

McElwee Named Director Of CD

ANNAPOLIS (AP)—Del. Joseph H. McElwee, D-Washington, was named by Gov. Tawes Friday as civil defense director for Washington County.

He succeeds Charles L. Mobley who resigned Aug. 22.

Laughter, Once Discarded At Church Door, Has Place In Today's Religious Life

By GEORGE W. CORNELL
AP Religion Writer

Laughter has slipped into church. It used to be sternly discarded at the door, but many ministers today regard humor as having a proper place in pew and pulpit. "We offer God every gift we have," says the Rev. Dr. Harold R. Albert of Pittsburgh. "Why be so sparing with the gift of laughter?"

In fact, scripture itself is sprinkled with all sorts of wit, mirth, delight, irony and satire. "A merry heart doeth good like a medicine," says Proverbs. Nevertheless, piety and reverence have often been regarded as altogether somber affairs.

"Our puritan forefathers were more than suspicious of humor," says The Rev. Dr. Paul K. Jewett of Fuller Theological Seminary, noting that some of the attitude carried over into later times. They not only didn't joke when they preached, but preached against jokes, records show. Yet, says Dr. Jewett, "Christianity is a religion of joy." He emphasized that sermon humor must have taste and purpose, and adds: "Like the sugared coating of a healthful pill, a bit of humor helps people digest solid theology." Out of custom, however, some people tend to feel it is more appropriate to worship with the corders of their mouths turned down rather than turned up.

erly Hills, Calif., relates that when he used some amusing anecdotes to illustrate a serious point, a member complained that "merriment had no place in a temple service." He maintains it does, when used judiciously. "We must discard the notion that to be religious we must be stern, stuffy and stodgy."

In a recent book, "Laughter in the Bible," Gary Webster, the penname of an Indianapolis Methodist minister, notes that there are more than 250 Biblical allusions to laughter.

"Some of the stories Jesus told man nature, often said, 'rejoice' be of good cheer!" In the American Lutheran, Theodore Moeller analyzes the uses of pulp humor, saying that forced, artificial humor or humor simply for its own sake is out, but that meaningful humor, deftly used, "does have a place in no illusions about life or hu-preaching."

These are the products of man's labor—and God's. From the moment the seedlings were placed in the warm earth, they have been under constant care.

First came the rain and the sun—and then the ceaseless work of fertilizing, cultivating, and spraying. Last, came harvest time, when the proud growers gathered the rewards of their labor.

Only by such diligence can we hope for a truly bountiful crop. God has given the refreshing rain and warm sunshine, but He expects us to do our part.

And so it is with the care and cultivation of our spiritual lives. Man is endowed with many talents and qualities, but unless he tends and nurtures these gifts, they will not increase and grow.

Harvest time in the life of every person is at maturity, when men are at the peak of their usefulness and wisdom. By attending the services of the Church and by studying the Scriptures, we will realize greater happiness and contentment here on earth—and will be preparing ourselves for the RICH HARVEST of a life hereafter.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake, (2) For his children's sake, (3) For the sake of his community and nation, (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Iota Epsilon, TPL Will Institute Oakland Chapter

Plans to entertain with a tea were discussed; an attendance contest was inaugurated and committees were appointed at the meeting of Iota Epsilon Chapter, Tau Phi Lambda, of the Supreme Forest Woodman Circle. Mrs. Mary White presided at the meeting at the Girl Scout house, Thursday evening.

The tea is to be in honor of the new Oakland Chapter. It will be held following a pledge and initiation service; institution of the chapter and installation of officers, by the local chapter. It will be December 3, at the Woman's Civic Club house, beginning at 2 p. m. Mrs. Jane Frederick is general chairman.

Because of the ritualistic work it was decided also to have the annual inspection of Iota Epsilon at that time. Mrs. Ruby Gene Sewell, national director of the sorority and one of the founders in 1937 and first president, has been invited to attend. Plans were made to invite other national, state and district officers.

Members voted to have an attendance contest with the two vice presidents as chairmen of the two teams. The contest will run until August, when the birthday celebration is held. At that time the losers will treat the winning team. Miss Jacqua Day will be one chairman, assisted by Miss Patricia Phillips; while Mrs. Dorothy Silber is to be assisted by Mrs. Patricia Hunter.

Committees appointed include scout, Mrs. Margaret Hartman, Miss Nancy Whetzel, Miss Phillips, Miss Juanita Prime; welfare, Mrs. Hazel White, Mrs. Wanda Yoder, Mrs. Lillian Hannas; ways and means, Mrs. Maxine Martin, Miss Joan Lear, Mrs. Gail Lambert, Miss Anna McCullough, Miss Shirley Stair; sunshine, Mrs. Anna Margaret Connelley, Mrs. Gloria Wilkinson; program, Miss Jacqua Day, Mrs. Shirley Chisholm, Miss Ethel Mae Staumaker, membership and rush, Mrs. Dorothy Silber, Miss Joyce Bruner and Miss Linda Bruner; publicity, Mrs. Shirley Calain, Mrs. Frederick, Mrs. Joann Craize; scrapbook, Miss Juanita Prime, Miss Marjory Crist, Mrs. Betty Dean, Miss Sandra Kenney, Miss Caroline Maxey and Miss Nancy Huff, and contact, Mrs. Patricia Hunter and Miss Phillips. The year book, "Meetings that Matter" was distributed.

Initiation of Miss Huff and Miss Ann McCullough preceded the business session. Speaking parts in the ritualistic work were by Mrs. Mary White, Miss Phillips, Mrs. Lease and Mrs. Betty Ann Poland. Mrs. Hunter served as warden and Mrs. Frederick, musician. The Muses were Mrs. Silber, Mrs. Connelley, Mrs. Craize and Mrs. Gloria Wilkinson.

Routine reports were given by Mrs. Polans and Mrs. Craize. The welfare report consisted of 120 hours, with 24½ spent on the Girl Scout troop, which the sorority sponsors; 30 hours for den mother training; 35 for the Girl Scout troop in Wiley Ford; seven hours for two members serving as chaperons for crippled children at the Lions circus; and 23½ hours for the oral polio clinics. A report was given on the troop the sorority sponsors and several members volunteered to accompany it on a neighborhood hike on the topeath today. Miss Joan Lear, card chairman, asked that Christmas card orders be submitted to her.

Because of the tea, it was decided to cancel the Christmas dinner for December 5. Instead the chapter will hold a jingle party with its Girl Scout troop. The date to be selected later.

Each member is to bring an item for the Thanksgiving basket to the next meeting, which will be November 16 at the scout house. Hostesses will be Mrs. Mary Alice Millholland, Miss Gale Garlitz and Mrs. Betty Dean.

Hostesses for the evening were Mrs. Poland, Mrs. Kenney and Miss Sandra Kenney.

Woman's Club To Have Education Panel

A panel on Education will feature the program for the November meeting of the Woman's Club of Moorefield. It will be Mrs. W. J. Teets, Mrs. Ashby Sca, Mrs. Howard Belt, Miss Elizabeth Wilson and Mrs. G. Tom Williams.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: Our daughter is 28 years old. She came home two years ago when her marriage didn't pan out. Her father and I are not young any more and we make just enough working part-time to get by. We are trying to look ahead and save a little for the future because we know a pension doesn't go far these days. Our daughter does nothing but eat, sleep, watch TV and talk on the telephone. She claims the only job she can take is one where she can sit down because she has flat feet and can't stand long. Yet

Style Show, Card Party Tuesday

The Junior Woman's Civic Club will present its annual style show and card party November 7 at the Ali Ghan Country Club. The wedding is to be November 25.

The gifts were concealed by an umbrella and a miniature bride held a shower of pink and white ribbons. Games were played and prizes were won by Mrs. Helen Jones, Mrs. Mary Miller and Miss Dydian Starkey.

Other guests were Mrs. Lucy Jacobs, Mrs. Colleen Jacobs, Mrs. Sylvia Jack, Mrs. Geraldine Corrigan, Miss Janice Hare, Miss Lana Widdows, Miss Nina Parker, Miss Karen Jacobs, Miss Sandra Little and Miss Terry Deffenbaugh.

Answers Your Problems

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I don't want advice. I just want to put into words what a broken home can do to a girl. Maybe it will make some so-called adults stop and think before they rush to the divorce courts to break up a marriage.

My dad and mother were divorced when I was 12. Mom was devoted to Dad but he met another woman and wanted his freedom. Dad married the other woman. They had two little girls. As I grew up I saw them around town quite often. It hurt me terribly to see my father give them the love and attention that rightfully belonged to me.

I've been going with a wonderful boy. He looks a lot like my dad and has the same winning charm. I'm afraid to let myself fall in love. I couldn't bear to go through the torture my mother did.

Divorce has made me afraid of love and afraid of marriage. Thank you for letting me get this off my chest.—REJECTED

DEAR REJECTED: Your letter expresses well what I've been trying to say for years — that children bear the real brunt of divorce.

I hope you will get professional help to allay your fears of love and marriage. Therapy has enabled many unhappy people to make a good adjustment.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: Our daughter is 28 years old. She came home two years ago when her marriage didn't pan out. Her father and I are not young any more and we make just enough working part-time to get by. We are trying to look ahead and save a little for the future because we know a pension doesn't go far these days.

Our daughter does nothing but eat, sleep, watch TV and talk on the telephone. She claims the only job she can take is one where she can sit down because she has flat feet and can't stand long. Yet she has no trouble dancing every night on those same flat feet.

Please tell us what to do. This girl has gone to business school and she has earned as high as $80 a week as a secretary. Thanks for any help you can give us.

—OLD FOLKS

DEAR FOLKS: Spend one more dollar on the lazy hulk. Buy her a pair of arch-supporters and tell her to go out and find herself a job—any kind. Let her know that within 14 days she must pay you $20 a week for room, board and services or out she goes.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I'm a girl 15 and I have a big problem. This fellow I've been going steady with is nice, but I am getting bored with him and I want to date others. Whenever I tell him I want to break up he gives me a big sales talk and I wind up defeated.

So long as I have his sweater and ring and go to all the hops and games with him no one else will ask me. Going steady is for the birds, Ann, but once you start, it's awfully hard to break off.

Please tell me what to do.

—EUNICE

DEAR EUNICE: Give back the sweater and the ring plus other loot which may bind you to him. Then tell him goodbye—and make it final.

You may sit at home dateless for a few weeks, but the word will get around that you're available and you'll be in circulation again. And, Miss 15, please stay that way!

To learn the difference between a marriage that "settles down" and one that "gets dull," send for ANN LANDERS' booklet, "What To Expect From Marriage," enclosing with your request 20 cents in coin and a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

District UDW To Hold Christmas Party Dec. 6

Members of the Fourth District United Democratic Women's Club discussed having a Christmas party, received an invitation and accepted nine new members at the meeting conducted by Mrs. Dorothy Daychek Wednesday evening at the Chapel Hill hose house. Plans also were completed for the public card party, which was to be held Friday evening at the Woman's Civic Club house.

The Christmas celebration will be in the form of a jingle party with dancing. It will be December 6 at the Bowling Green fire hall. The committee in charge of arrangements, consists of Mrs. Rose Hay, Mrs. Mildred Kean, Mrs. Catherine Naughton, Mrs. Sylvia Mattingly, Mrs. Florence Staarman and Mrs. Ada Mease.

An invitation was received from the Democratic State Central Committee for a cocktail and jingle party. It will be held December 16 at the Fort Cumberland Hotel, beginning at 1 p. m. It was decided to postpone the election of officers until the January meeting.

New members received are Mrs. Helen Wolford, Mrs. Mildred Mattingly, Mrs. Mary Jo Crowden, Mrs. Blanche Lueck, Mrs. Edna Lueck, Mrs. Margaret Dunlap, Mrs. Frances Swartley, Mrs. JoAnn Rice and Mrs. Joann Reese.

Others present were Mrs. Margaret Robinette, Mrs. Kean, Mrs. Ruth Haas, Mrs. Mease, Mrs. Louise Maguire, Mrs. Jessie Calhoun, Mrs. Thelma Paige, Mrs. Thelma Richard, Mrs. Staarman, Mrs. Sylvia Mattingly, Mrs. Esther Stevens, Mrs. Regina Spierman, Mrs. Aida Alburts, Mrs. Naughton, Mrs. Hay and Mrs. Ursula Smith.

William McCormick was master of ceremonies. The favors were corsages and tie clips. The entertainment was by the Ritchie sisters of Cumberland; Ferrone brothers, Cresaptown; Patty Ahern, Westernport, and a puppet dance was presented by Helen Durr. Mrs. Mary Ord, Westernport, was accompanist. Dancing was to music by Mr. and Mrs. Rhythm.

Card Party, Fashion Show To Be Nov. 10

Mrs. Miles Thompson Jr. will be commentator for the fashion show by Rosenbaum's being sponsored by the St. Patrick's Mothers Club in conjunction with a card party November 10. It will be at the Ali Ghan Country Club, beginning at 8 o'clock. A "Glittering Theme" will be the theme.

The models will be members of the club, and pupils from the school. Players are to bring their own cards and refreshments will be served and prizes awarded.

Preacher of the Prairies

Holding the Bible in her hand, the Rev. Gertrude Horn is ready for another trip and another sermon—a beloved figure of the prairies of northeastern Colorado.

One of the Rev. Gertrude Horn's four churches is at Prairie Center, Colo., a forlorn speck on the barren land.

The Rev. Gertrude Horn has strong faith in her mission, in the people she serves in the bleak, harsh country of northeastern Colorado. She is minister to four widely separated prairie communities of Weld County.

The towns, Grover, Briggsdale, Hereford and Prairie Center are off the main travel routes. They are inhabited by the fiercely independent but friendly cattle raisers and wheat farmers of the area. Recently there has been a sprinkling of newcomers from nearby missile sites who have moved in with the old timers.

Gertrude Horn's Sunday begins at 7:30 a.m. Starting from her modest parsonage in Grover she drives the 18 miles to Briggsdale. The service at Briggsdale Congregational Church is from 8:30 to 9:30.

After the service, a few handshakes and greetings, and she is barreling back to Grover over back roads. Along this route only a couple of homesteads break the monotony of the drive. The service at Grover Community Church is from 10:10 to 10:50 a.m.

Services at Hereford and Prairie Center are on alternate Sundays. Prairie Center Community Church is a forlorn speck on the barren prairie. A weathered sign identifies the lone wooden building.

Miss Horn drives some 30,000 miles a year on her church services, visits, and hospital trips to nearby cities. She has performed close to 200 funerals and about 150 weddings. She keeps a stretcher on the front porch of her home for emergency illness and accident cases. The nearest hospital is in Greeley.

What holds Gertrude Horn to this land? She answers: "It is a faith in my mission. God called me. . . The people are so genuine here, everyone is welcome, no one stays a stranger," and her eyes mist as she looks over the endless sweep of prairie.

"When it starts to green and the little red calves dot the prairie, it's beautiful," she says.

She arrives at Grover, Colo., to hold services at the Community Church, shown directly in front of her. Its congregation of 60 is her largest Sunday flock.

A deeply convincing and inspiring preacher, she impresses the prairie folks with her short but effective sermons. She's speaking here to her Prairie Center flock.

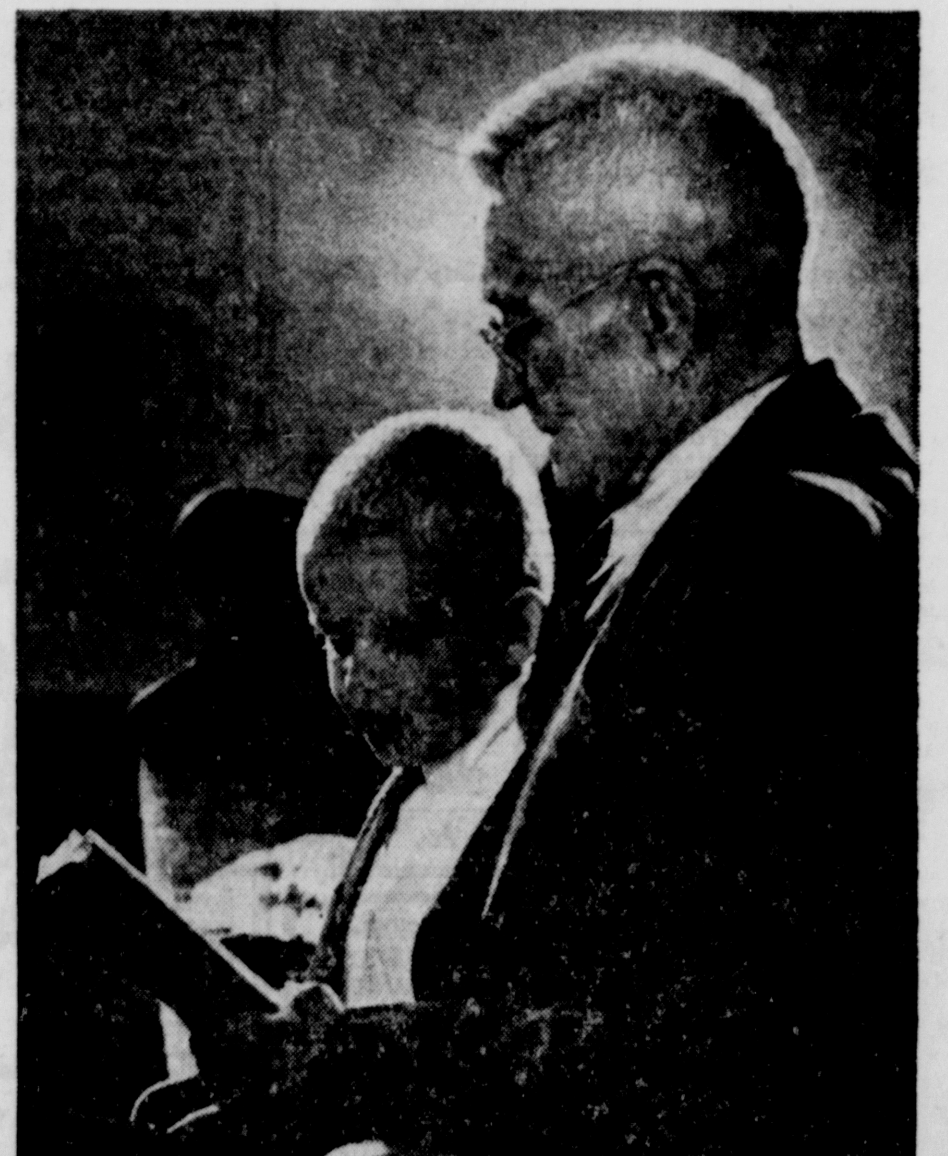

The camera distracts a little girl dressed in her Sunday best.

"In the Lord put I my trust. . ." The words of the 11th Psalm strike the keynote of a study in worship in the Briggsdale church.

Services at Prairie Center and Hereford are held on alternate Sundays. This quiet, reverent congregation has gathered at Prairie Center.

A veteran of life's battle on the Colorado prairie shares his hymnal with the new generation. Scene: Briggsdale's church.

Why America Must Resume A-Tests

It is obvious that the United States has no alternative to resumption of atmospheric testing. Many atomic experts believe this has already been too long delayed—that the Russians may be gaining a military advantage from their tests.

Resumption of testing in the atmosphere by the U. S. is necessary if for no other reason than to perfect the neutron bomb.

Washington has shown a decent respect for the opinions of mankind by holding off for more than a month while the bomb-happy Soviets exploded atmosphere-contaminating devices like firecrackers. Only a die-hard "neutral" will blame the United States for doing what must be done.

U. S. testing, of course, will have as its sole aim to prevent the Soviet Union from gaining an advantage as a result of its long-continued detonations. Every effort will be made to minimize fallout.

Some of our tests will be underground and will cause no fallout at all. None of the bombs tested will be as large as some Russia has set off, which are described as having no greater military value. There will be no intention of entering into a competition of terror.

Great efforts will be made to make sure the bombs tested are as "clean" as possible, with relatively little fallout. Above-ground tests of relatively large weapons will be exploded so many miles above ground level that fallout will be minimized.

These are differences between the testing the U. S. may do presently and the testing the Russians are doing now.

These Days

By George E. Sokolsky

The India Betrayal

There are those who have believed that India could be bribed into favoring the United States. Up to now, India has been a progressive neutral, that is a neutral that favored Soviet Russia. On the other hand, Krishna Menon, India's delegate to the United Nations, has been antagonistic to the United States, supporting Soviet Russia on every program, including the firing of 28 atomic bombs in succession.

India's position is beyond understanding, as Nehru postures as a moralist, a person who lives by a code rather than by political expediency. The fact is that India has pursued a policy in the United Nations which has no explanation in historic reason. In fact, Nehru's support of the Two China Policy can only create confusion in Asia by Red China. Nehru has not protested Tibet or Nepal or Kashmir against Red China, although it is impossible to find any moral explanation for India's conduct, particularly as Nehru postures as a moralist and there can be no morality in India's attitude toward Tibet.

At the Geneva Conference which was called to put an end to the nuclear bombing of humanity, the Indian delegation always equated the United States and Soviet Russia, although the United States had stopped testing and Soviet Russia is exploding increasingly larger bombs, culminating in the futile and monstrous 50 megaton bomb.

The American delegate, Arthur Dean, said: "It may seem a matter of indifference to the Indian delegation whether a state conducts upward of twenty atmospheric tests in seven weeks, culminating in a fifty-megaton shot and other shots of up to thirty-megatons, and continues to test in the atmosphere, even this very morning, while another state conducts but three underground explosions in the small kiloton, or thousand-ton, range which involves no radioactive fallout."

Nehru would like to be regarded and respected as the principal moral force in the Asia-African world today. Asia and Africa cannot be associated realistically as one area, which it is not, although at certain points the two continents meet ethnologically and religiously. The Bandung Conference (April 1955) sought to build a unit among the Asiatic and African states to offset the colonial powers which are organized in NATO.

But Red China sought to build the Bandung Conference into an anti-American, pro-Soviet bloc and to a degree succeeded largely because Nehru would not take a moral stand but submitted to Soviet leadership. In fact, Chou En-lai, the Red Chinese Premier, asserted himself as superior to everybody else at that Conference.

Krishna Menon has attempted to give the impression that explosions in the atmosphere are the same as explosions underground which he knows not to be true. The object of Menon's statement was to give the Indian people the false impression that the United States was more wicked than Soviet Russia, that underground tests did more harm than atmospheric tests which he also knew to be untrue. In a word, Krishna Menon has acted on behalf of Soviet Russia and sets out to damage the United States although he pretends to represent a neutral nation. This neutrality is hard to define.

Most Americans are growing weary of both Nehru and Menon and the time has come when aid to India must be regarded as aid to an enemy state. No alternative is available, particularly in view of Menon's constant attacks upon the United States.

There is no excuse for the shooting of the 50 megaton bomb. No scientific purpose is achieved by shooting off this bomb. If a five or 10 megaton bomb can be fired, it stands to reason that in due course a 50 or 100 megaton bomb can be fired. But what is proved by this? What end does it serve? What benefit is it to mankind?

Soviet Russia is filthying the atmosphere and dirtying the soil of all countries, including its own and that of its allies. Soviet Russia has become an outlaw nation, a horror to mankind, a brute force on Earth. If India can defend such a country, who can defend India? If Menon can equate bestiality with American ideals and principles, then it is necessary to re-evaluate our relations with India and to decide whether that country is a friend or an enemy.

'Now Bury The Rest'

What Viet Nam Asked Taylor For: U.S. Troops

SAIGON

Just before Gen. Maxwell Taylor left Saigon, President Ngo Dinh Diem formally asked for American combat units to be sent to South Viet Nam.

The fact itself, as yet not reported, is meaningful enough. Yet the circumstances of President Ngo Dinh Diem's request have more real meaning than the request itself.

To begin with, the request was made with the utmost reluctance. Both President Ngo Dinh Diem and his brother and chief advisor, state councillor Ngo Dinh Niu, are personally convinced that the disadvantages of the arrival of American combat units on Vietnamese soil at least balance the advantages, if they do not outweigh them.

But the other members of the government unanimously were in favor of the request.

The reason for this unanimity among the ministers was ominous to say the least. They had believed that the United States was firmly committed to defend the independence of Laos, and they had watched this Laotian commitment being gently flushed down the nearest international drain.

As a result, the suspicion is widespread that United States policy in Southeast Asia is now marked by a surplus of fine talk and a shortage of decisive action.

Hence the President's cabinet argued that it was desirable to ask for combat units which would constitute a truly decisive American commitment to South Viet Nam's defense. To this argument, President Ngo Diem finally bowed. But he will probably be just as happy with some other kind of decisive American commitment, by a public order to the 7th Fleet to guard the Vietnamese coast, for instance.

The doubts about America's strength of will are therefore very serious in South Viet Nam—though less serious, reportedly, than in other key areas like Thailand. These doubts are being felt, moreover, at the very moment when the Communists appear to be trying to bring this war in Viet Nam to a final climax. The easiest way to see how this is happening, is to go back to the Viet Minh war against the French.

The current war's relation to that war is quite direct. After the French defeat and the division of Viet Nam at Geneva in 1954, the Communists took north with them all members of their regular armed forces in the South. But they left behind in South Viet Nam all their irregular guerilla troops and all their provincial and village cadres. Most of those who were left behind in this manner were ready and waiting to march with the Communists once again, when the North Vietnamese government gave its signal for renewed attack on South Viet Nam in 1959.

These facts explain the rapidity with which the Communists were able to organize a major guerrilla effort here. Admittedly, they were aided by the weaknesses of the Diem government, not to mention the follies of some of the American planning for the Ngo Dinh Diem government's army and police. But there was, and there still is one cardinal difference between the old war against the French and this new war.

In crude terms, in the war against the French the Communists relied about 80 per cent on the population's dislike of the foreign colonial occupier and only about 20 per cent on terror. But in this war, the percentages are reversed. The Communists have been relying about 80 per cent on terror, while drawing only about 20 per cent of their support from inherent anti-government sentiment. That is a dangerously unbalanced ratio.

Yet the ratio is now being unbalanced still further, in the most coldly ruthless manner. In Kien Hoa Province, for instance, where this reporter has just been, the Communists have perpetrated over 80 assassinations since the beginning of July. And they have ceased to be content with the mere customary murders of government officials. Two-thirds of COOL TO U.S. JOBS—President Kennedy is experiencing difficulty in obtaining the men he wants for top government positions. This situation is a continuation of one that has existed ever since he won the presidential elections and began trying to form his cabinet.

Recently, for instance, he asked Thomas J. Watson Jr., head of International Business Machines Corporation, to head up the Agency for International Development, successor to the foreign aid administration, Watson declined. Earlier he had unsuccessfully sought to have Watson take over a high position in the Pentagon.

Another man long in public life, Clark Clifford, former aide to President Harry Truman, was asked to succeed Allen Dulles as head of the Central Intelligence Agency. Clifford refused, and Kennedy took his recommendation and named John A. McCone to the job.

What concerns some White House aides is that both men are believed to be susceptible to the right federal appointment, and apparently each wants something more than has been offered so far. The guessing is that Watson wants to be the secretary of Defense and that Clifford wants an appointment to the Supreme Court.

What Can Be Done About Superfluous Hair?

By Dr. Theodore R. Van Dellen

Unwanted or superfluous hair is transient or permanent. If 100 women with hair on the upper lip and chin were examined thoroughly in 99, nothing could be found to account for the growth. The other might have a disturbance of the adrenal, thyroid, or sex glands. In other words, hirsutism in women occurs so frequently it is regarded as normal. Skin is covered with fine down (lanugo), which is thicker in some than in others. When the hair is fine and blond, little need be done. If the color is darker, the simplest treatment is to bleach with hydrogen peroxide and ammonia water.

For coarse hair, there are a number of choices. Shaving has many advantages but most women hesitate to resort to this procedure. They are afraid it will alter the texture of the hair or cause more to grow, even though these possibilities have been disproved. Shaving too close may lead to irritation, even to ingrown hairs.

A razor is a sharp weapon as a trim little teen-ager discovered recently. This young lady was invited out and had an hour to bathe and dress. She spied hair on her legs and decided to use father's best razor. Shaving freed her limbs of hair but she spent more than half an hour treating her wounds. Hereafter, she expects to do her barbering when she has more time to be careful.

A small patch of hair is more easily removed with tweezers or rubbed off with an abrasive, such as a fine pumice stone. Wax, applied when it is soft and gummy, removes hair as it is pulled off. There are many chemical depilatories on the market. These products contain one of the sulfides that kills hair at the surface of the skin. The tender skinned person must remember that a solution powerful enough to remove hair also is powerful enough to cause dermatitis.

Try And Stop Me

By Bennett Cert

A midwesterner, accustomed to making a business trip once a month to New York, was dismayed when his wife announced one time she was coming with him. "I want to see some night life and have some fun," she told him.

"Honey," he protested. "I never go near a night club in New York. I just work." "This time," she said, "you're going to a night club!"

They went. And as he was checking his hat, his wife heard the hat check girl say distinctly, "Why, it's old Georgey-Porgy! Welcome back!" The head waiter beamed "Your usual table, sir?" And the chorus girl with red hair tickled him under the chin as she whisked by and murmured, "Darling boy!"

The wife seized him by the scruff of the neck and threw him into a taxicab. "You double-crossing lowlife!" she cried. "Wait till I get you home!" The driver turned around and for the battle against hunger.

Miracle Of Mechanization

There are two important reasons for this victory, one of them available to the Soviet, the other not: 1. The mechanization of the American farm; 2. The fact that individual enterprise can and does surpass collective Communist effort.

It was only about 50 years ago that approximately one-half the population of the United States was engaged in feeding the rest of the population. Today, 8 per cent of the population not only feeds 180,000,000 Americans but has enough left over to feed a good part of the world besides.

This is because the farm implement companies are constantly busy experimenting with new labor-saving devices. Thus instead of measuring the fat on a hog's back by sticking a pen knife in him, the fat is now measured by radar. Instead of the back-breaking job of picking up bales of hay, pick-up balers now have a pistol attachment that can shoot a bale like a bullet into a wagon that trails behind.

One company, Chore-Boy has imported the herringbone milk parlor from New Zealand, whereby cows walk through a sort of assembly line, pausing only about three minutes to be milked. During this three-minute period they are washed and fed, as well as milked, with the same dexterity that an automobile is put together on the assembly line.

Chore-Boy has even developed a new fiberglass material for building barns—an amazing departure from the wooden barns built by American farmers for two centuries.

However, these mechanical miracles are also available to Russian farmers; for the Soviet government has not only purchased modern American machinery, but has also manufactured some of its own.

Our Secret Ingredient

But what they don't have, and can't purchase is the No. 1 ingredient of capitalism—private initiative. And this is where the American farmer pushes ahead while the Soviet farmer falls behind. Russian farmers are fine people personally. I have talked to them. They are friendly, anxious to learn new methods.

But the figures published by the Soviet government tell an irrefutable story of the difference between American private initiative farming and Soviet state or collective farming.

The latest published Soviet figures are for 1959, but authorities in Moscow told me that the picture has not changed since. In that year Russia operated 54,600 collective farms and 6,500 state farms. This contrasted with 4,783,000 individual farms in the United States.

Soviet government figures also showed that the backbone of American agriculture is the small farm. This is not news to us, but it's interesting to see them report it. The average size of the American farm is only 220 acres as against an average of 13.68 acres for the Soviet collective farm and 58,069 acres for the state farm.

Big farms are supposed to be more efficient. Then lend themselves to mechanization. Nevertheless, Soviet figures show that its total agricultural output on state and collective farms was only 70 to 80 per cent as great as that of the United States.

The story on wheat and corn, the two chief crops of both countries, is even more revealing. Soviet production of wheat per acre was 15.5 bushels as against 34.7 bushels per acre in the United States. Soviet production of corn per acre was 22 bushels as against 59.4 bushels per acre in the United States.

That's what individual American enterprise has done on the American farm.

Furthermore, the American farmer, though owning only an average of 220 acres was able to afford considerably more tractors than the Soviet farms which purchased tractors with government funds. American farmers had 4,685,000 tractors as against 1,001,000 on Soviet state and collective farms. American farmers also had 1,040,000 combines as against 502,000 on Russian farms.

Some frustrated Americans who seem to think American capitalism can't compete with Russian Communism without a preventive war please take note.

'Fun-nee!'

By John Crosby

"What I like," said the girl at the cocktail party, "is your funny columns. In these times, we need to laugh. So please, you must write another funny one right away."

"A funny one? Well, let's see now. Semyon Tsarapkin—Old Scratchy they call him—the Russian delegate at the United Nations, said: 'War can start at any moment.' That's pretty funny, isn't it?"

"No, I don't think that's funny at all. That's just the sort of thing you should keep out of your column. You must make us laugh."

"Well, yes, but the question is what makes you laugh? I mean if Old Scratchy saying 'War can start at any moment' doesn't make you laugh—it's not so much what he said as the way he said it."

"No, it's not at all funny." "How about Khrushchev's men getting the wrong bomb by mistake. 'I told you to take that one!' 'Gee, boss, we thought you said that one.' You could make a sketch out of it. Hilarious!"

"It's not hilarious! It's horrible!" "It got laughs in Moscow. It got yocks."

"They have a perverted sense of humor in Moscow." "They do some pretty funny things. Taking Stalin out of Lenin's tomb. That's pretty funny. Most of the humor these days is pretty goulash anyway. All the sick sick sick comedians in the nightclubs tell end of the world jokes and the people break up. If the joke hasn't got ten mega-deaths in the punch line, it's not funny. You can't do anything with simple pratfalls any more."

"You used to do some darling columns about children. Why don't you do a funny one about children?" "Well, let's see—a geneticist says the fallout from Soviet bombs will have results that won't be fully known for two to four generations. If the Soviet fallout can cause cancer, it will be evident in Mr. Khrushchev's grandchildren and all children throughout the world. The incidence of cancer in children and the incidence of badly deformed children born has risen sharply in the last twenty years—"

"Oh, for heaven's sake! Can't you get away from the bomb for a moment?"

"It's not easy, but I'll try. Funny columns, eh? Well, I think the funniest thing that has happened since the Eichmann trial (wasn't that a howl?) was Khrushchev saying he didn't want a 'cult of personality.' Reminds me of Phil Silvers in 'Too Banana' stamping his foot and saying, 'No autographs! No autographs!' to passersby who had no intention of asking for one."

"You're getting a little less morbid. But I think you should get out of Russia altogether. Can't you think of anything funny that's strictly American?"

"Barry Goldwater is good for a laugh in my neighborhood almost any time. But especially when he talks about the old American virtues like thrift and self-reliance. His grandfather was self-reliant and his father was thrifty and left him a department store. If you didn't have a rich father, you're probably a subversive."

"That's better, that's much better."

"Rockefeller says Nixon could still be drafted."

"You're getting funnier and funnier."

"They're bootlegging milk in New York City and the authorities are looking the other way—just like the last time."

"Fun-nee!"

"Well, it's not easy. Even Red Skelton is getting the blues. When he gets an honorary degree from Ralph Waldo Emerson college in Boston Sunday, he plans to make a serious speech on how Hitler, Stalin, and Khrushchev have killed comedy dead. When Red Skelton starts talking like that, who am I to start making jokes? It's just possible that laughter is a passing phase. In evolutionary history, laughter is a very recent and conceivably transitory phase. Only humans do it and they've only been around for a million and a half years or so which in the four and half billion years of geological time isn't much and perhaps this laughter business was just a passing madness, a temporary eccentricity like breathing through our gills and perhaps we're getting over it."

Big Christmas Season Seen By Merchants

$7.5 Million Boost In Sales Expected

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (UPI)—A United Press International survey indicated Friday West Virginia merchants are optimistic about the prospects of an upturn this year in Christmas season business.

Based on comments of officials of leading department stores and of business experts, as much as $7.5 million more is expected to be spent this year than in 1960 during the peak Christmas shopping period, the month of December.

This would mean close to $210 million spent in December. Retail sales in the state have averaged out to about $148 million a month this year. December sales usually run about $54 million above average.

Last year, an estimated $202 million was spent during the Christmas season.

However, officials of larger stores in Charleston and Huntington, the state's two largest cities, said their hopes for a big Christmas-shopping season are predicated somewhat on settlement of local bus strikes still in progress in both areas.

In both cities, many merchants reported business has fallen off noticeably during the strikes—and if they are not settled in a couple of weeks, Christmas business will be affected.

Unemployment has not shown any great improvement, since last year in the state but those who are working are earning more money, and this is the basic reason for optimism about good holiday business.

The total of personal income of West Virginians this year is expected to reach about $3.2 billion, up 2 per cent from last year. This in spite of the fact that an estimated 10 per cent of the labor force is out of work.

The major department stores apparently intend to concentrate on their "hard lines" of gifts for this season, rather than venturing out with a lot of new items. The "hard line" includes such things as home furnishings like china and appliances.

The big outfits, like Charleston's Diamond department store and the Stone & Thomas stores in Charleston, Wheeling, Parkersburg, Clarksburg and Weirton, have bought some different foreign-made products but say they are more in the nature of novelty items.

"Most of our imported items won't compete with the American market," one merchant said.

There has been criticism in the past of stores importing such things as china, glassware and pottery items while West Virginia industries which make the same type things are in financial straits.

Westernport Sets Deadline

WESTERNPORT — December 15 was set as a deadline for citizens of Franklin and Brophytown to form a water company for the repair and maintenance of water lines, collecting of bills and other necessary office detail.

A decision was made at the meeting of the Mayor and Commissioners of Westernport this week.

Old lines to that section are in poor shape and it is believed that much of the loss of water from the town system is a result.

Town officials feel that if the people of the two communities form their own company to control their own lines and purchase water from Westernport through a master meter the arrangement will be more satisfactory to all concerned.

Spartans Face Minnesota In Top Grid Tilt

LSU And Ole Miss
Tangle; Iowa Will Test Ohio State

By JACK CLARY
Associated Press Sports Writer

Michigan State and Mississippi, the nation's two top-ranked college football teams, stake their reputations against dangerous opponents Saturday in the most power-packed day of the 1961 season.

Michigan State, No. 1 in the current Associated Press poll, puts its 5-0 record against one-beaten Minnesota in the top game on the Big Ten slate. Second-ranked Mississippi tosses its 6-0 mark, and a 21-game unbeaten streak, at Louisiana State, the last team to beat the Rebels, in 1958.

Iowa Tests Buckeyes
In other important games, Ohio State, No. 5, and tied for the Big Ten lead with Michigan State and Minnesota, meets once-beaten Iowa while Colorado takes on Missouri. The latter meeting could decide the Big Eight title and a trip to the Orange Bowl.

Michigan State and Minnesota both have 3-0 conference records. The Gophers have come back strong after losing their nonconference opener to Missouri. Michigan State relies on a crunching ground game that is ranked fifth nationally. The Spartans' defense has allowed only 10 points, fewest among major schools.

Minnesota does not have the same offensive potential. However, the Gopher defense is rated third nationally, and is No. 10 against rushing. The game will be shown in parts of the Midwest on regional television (ABN).

Ole Miss Faces LSU
LSU is in a position to thwart Ole Miss' bid for at least a share of the Southeastern Conference title, which it is defending.

Mississippi holds an offensive and defensive edge against sixth-ranked LSU. But the Bengals (5-1) have the toughest defense Ole Miss has faced so far this year. Both teams are 3-0 in the SEC.

The Ohio State-Iowa game once was billed as a possible showdown for both the national and Big Ten titles. However, Iowa (No. 9) spoiled that last week when it was upset by Purdue. The Buckeyes pin their attack on a grind-it-out ground game, led by All-America fullback Bob Ferguson.

Colorado, ranked eighth with a 5-0 mark, and 4-0 in the Big Eight, pins its offensive hopes on the passing of Gale Weidner and the receiving of end Jerry Hillbrand. The Mizzou defense is one of the staunchest against rushing and has helped it to a 3-0 conference mark and a 5-0-1 overall record. This is also on regional TV.

Texas Battles SMU
In other games involving top teams, third-ranked Texas, the nation's offensive giant, battles Southern Methodist in the Southwest Conference while SEC leader Alabama (6-0) plays conference rival Mississippi State. In another SEC game, Georgia Tech (No. 7), coached by Bobby Dodd, meets Florida, which has a quarterback named Bobby Dodd Jr.

The Citadel can win its first Southern Conference crown by beating defending champion Virginia Military. Ivy League leader Princeton is at winless Brown while Dartmouth and Yale meet in a regionally televised game.

Texas A&M and Arkansas battle each other, with the winner given the only chance of overthrowing Texas for the Southwest crown. Utah State can climb back into a tie for the Skyline lead against Brigham Young while Wyoming takes on nonconference opponent Arizona.

UCLA and Southern Cal, co-leaders in the Big Five at 1-0, play California and Washington, respectively.

Irish Play Navy
Rutgers, the nation's only major undefeated team, plays Lafayette. Notre Dame and Navy meet for the 35th consecutive year and Atlantic Coast Conference leader Duke travels to the University of Michigan, in a couple of intersectional tilts.

Valley High School's Black Knights won the championship of the Western Maryland Interscholastic Soccer League yesterday by edging Beall High School at Frostburg, 3-2, while Flintstone's Aggies provided a big surprise by holding the Bruce High Bulldogs to a 1-1 tie at Flintstone.

Coach John C. Meyers' Knights finished their season with a record of six wins, no defeats and two tie games—a pair of 1-1 contests with Bruce.

Tenth For Meyers
The championship was the eighth in nine years for Valley, including a tie with Bruce in 1958. Coach Meyers has tutored ten championship teams, including two at old Central High School, Lonaconing, in 1949 and 1950. His Valley teams have won the title outright in 1953, 1954, 1955, 1956, 1957, 1959 and 1961.

Beall was the 1960 champion. Yesterday's triumph was the 15th for Valley in 18 games with Beall since 1953.

Danny Young gave Valley a 1-0 lead in the second period by booting his 7th penalty goal of the season.

Allen Eisel's penalty goal enabled Beall to knot the count at one-all at halftime.

Marvin Miller booted a field goal to send Valley in front in the third period and Eisel slammed in a shot from 22 yards out to even it up at 2-2. Young missed a try for penalty goal in the same quarter.

Young's Goal Decides
Young's field goal won the game for the Black Knights in the final period and upped his total to 11 points for the season. He has registered four field goals and seven points from the penalty line. Valley scored 26 points for the season and yielded only one field goal from scrimmage. That was Eisel's long shot in yesterday's game. Other points scored against Valley came on penalty goals and free kicks.

Goalie Robert Creighton, Marvin Miller, Keith Wilson and Young of Valley and Goale Charles Gray, Eisel, Wayne Wharton and John Chaney of Beall were the game's outstanding players.

Aggies Spring Surprise
Coach Leonard Ritchie's Bruce Bulldogs rallied in the final period to score on a penalty kick by Lowell Taylor with three minutes to play to earn the deadlock with Flintstone's fired-up Aggies.

Flintstone's entire front line played its most outstanding game as the Aggies battled the favored Bulldogs on even terms to knock the visitors out of the running for the league title.

Coach Stony Jackson's Aggies broke a scoreless tie in the third period when Bob Martin booted home the first goal from a scramble in front of the Bruce goalposts.

Approximately 100 persons witnessed the well-played contest in which Bruce had seven corner kicks to Flintstone's none. Goale Ron Stafford of Flintstone had 15 saves while Goale Ron Shaffer of Bruce was credited with seven saves in the game.

Outstanding players were Don Raines, Jim Guthrie and Ed Delio of Bruce and Ron Stafford, Dave Kennedy, Don Smith, Larry Haines, Don Kinton and Carl Thomas of Flintstone. The lineup:

Bally Pulls Upset
MANILA (AP) — Jet Bally, top ranked Philippine featherweight, upset European featherweight champion Gracieux Lamperti of France in a 10-round fight Friday night. Bally weighed 129½ pounds, Lamperti 131½.

With a last round, 7-count knockdown to his credit, the Filipino won the verdict of the referee and two judges.

ST. PATRICK'S GRID CHAMPIONS — St. Patrick's has won the Catholic Youth Football League championship for the eighth time in the 16-year history of the circuit by posting a record of five wins, no defeats and one tie. The Rev. Arthur Bastrass was head coach of the team with "Buck" Shober, Joe Chorpennig and Carl Blake as his assistants. The squad shown above, left to right: FIRST ROW—Richard Kerr, Michael Zembower, Dennis McCagh, Robert Pettit, Peter Hartman, Brian Horn, Joe Wilson, Joe Shober and Charles Clark. SECOND ROW—Gerald

Mitchell Is Given Permission To Play

CLEVELAND (AP) — Bobby Mitchell of the Cleveland Browns has received permission from his commanding officer at Ft. Meade, Md., to play Sunday against the Pittsburgh Steelers, the Browns said today.

A Cleveland spokesman said the Army told the club that the fleet halfback will be off duty at 4:30 p.m. Saturday and must report back to the base by 6 a.m. Monday.

"This ruling applies only for Sunday," the spokesman said. "But presumably Mitchell will be able to play on other Sundays if he is able to get time off."

World's Richest Race Draws 12 Two-Year-Olds

Howard and Dave Sayaya's Nijan, Elkam Stable's Padded Cell, Golden Triangle Stable's Point Park, Brookfield Farm's In Force, El Peco Ranch's Decidedly, Philip Godfrey's Stinson Beach, Walnut Hill Farm's Su Kq Wa and the Arnold Winick trained entry of R. F. Bensinger's Pinsetter and Mrs. Herbert H. Herff's Obey.

Jockey Donald Pierce, who handled Donut King in his first two races, has the assignment on this colt. Donut King has winnings of $182,874 in 13 starts, including five victories, two seconds and three thirds. He won his division of the trial by nine lengths, but three-fifths of a second slower than Crimson Satan, who won the other division of the trial by six lengths.

Shoemaker To Ride
Willie Shoemaker, who has yet to win the pot of gold in five Garden State rides, will be aboard Crimson Satan, earner of $42,896 in 11 outings. The Salmen-owned colt has five victories, two seconds and two thirds.

As for weather, it could play a part if the day comes up rainy. Crimson Satan has won by six lengths in the mud in an earlier start, but Donut King never has run on an off track.

Fort Hill High School's Sentinels will meet a Pennsylvania school on the gridiron for the first time since 1953 when they tackle the Windber High School Ramblers at the local stadium tonight at 8 o'clock.

Franklin High of the Johnstown area was Fort Hill's last foe from the Keystone State eight years ago and the locals won by the score of 40-6.

Windber will be facing Fort Hill for the first time since 1937 when the Ramblers made a sweep of the series, 58-7, after having won the first game the previous year to the tune of 54-6. Both games were played at Windber. The Pennsylvanians' last visit to Cumberland was in 1931 when they lost to LaSalle.

Coach Charley Lattimer's Sentinels will be engaging in their eighth game on a 10-game schedule. They've won four and lost three and meet Keyser and Allegany in their last two games of the campaign.

Farmington At Romney

Romney High School's Pioneers will be striving to finish with an undefeated season when they tackle the Farmers of Farmington High School in a homecoming tilt at 2 p. m., today at Romney. Romney has the only unbeaten and untied team in the tri-state area and goes after its ninth consecutive triumph today. The Pioneers have posted a 11-4-2 record since Roger Parker took over the reins last year.

This will be the tenth game of the Romney-Farmington series. The Marion countians lead in the series with six wins, two losses and one tie game. Farmington has won two and lost six this season.

Romney has shut out five of its eight opponents this season. The Hampshire countians have beaten

Berkeley Springs 12-7, Charles Town 27-0, Franklin 6-0, Moorefield 27-0, Green Bank 28-0, Beall 19-13, Ridgeley 6-0 and Petersburg 28-7.

Potomac At Frostburg

Potomac State College and Frostburg State Teachers College will meet for the first time on the gridiron today when they collide at Beall High School Stadium in the Mountain City at 2 p. m.

Frostburg State made its football debut this year and goes into the final game of the season with a 2-4 record. The Catamounts

(3-4) need a win to crash the .500 circle. Coach "Horse" Lough's team winds up its season one week from today in Baltimore.

Both schools have met Shepherd and Davis & Elkins College. Frostburg lost to the Rams, 29-6, and the Senators, 28-0 while Potomac fell before Shepherd, 32-0, and whipped D. & E., 13-0.

Deaf Eleven Clash

The second Saturday attraction at Romney finds the West Virginia School for the Deaf (2-5) meeting the Pennsylvania School for the Deaf of Philadelphia. This is the twelfth game of the series with the Keystone Staters holding a 6-4 edge in victories. One game ended in a tie.

At Shepherdstown, Coach Jesse Riggelman's Shepherd College Rams (4-2) meet Bridgewater (Va.) College in the season finale this afternoon.

Scoring in every period, twice on long runs, Hancock High defeated the Ridgeley High Blackhaws, 28-7, yesterday at Ridgeley as both elevens closed out their 1961 football season.

The triumph was the fourth in seven games for Coach Paul Imp-hong's Hancock gridgers while Ridgeley bowed for the seventh time in nine games, including a 1-4 mark in the Potomac Valley Conference.

Hancock's Jim Eddy opened the scoring in the initial period when he raced 82 yards for the visitors' first touchdown. Dan Kerns gave Hancock a 14-0 halftime lead by running back an intercepted pass for 91 yards and a score in the second quarter.

Hancock built the lead to 21-0 when Kerns took a 12-yard pass from quarterback Terry Truax for another six-pointer in the third period before Ridgeley broke the ice with a touchdown on Jim Bauman's 12-yard scoring toss to Eddie Litton.

The final Hancock score came in the last period when guard Jack McCarthy pounced on Truax's fumble in the end zone for the counter. The lineup:

Patterson Creek Man Arrested

Minutes after a South Centre Street business place was reported held up yesterday evening, city police chased and nabbed a Patterson Creek, W. Va., man on Baltimore Street.

Governor Asks: Concentrate On Education Goals

BALTIMORE (AP) — Gov. Tawes told the Maryland Congress of Parents and Teachers Friday night he is sure "we will not allow disagreement about means and methods to deflect us from our goals" of better education for children.

The governor, who has differed with state PTA leaders and some local chapters over the issue of school teacher pay, addressed the Congress two weeks after he had rapped school teacher lobbyists in a speech at the state teachers convention.

His tone before the PTA Congress was somewhat milder. He said "clash and conflict . . . are inevitable" between groups over such complex issues although they pursue the same goals.

"Glorious Record"
"Parent-Teacher associations in Baltimore City and all of our 23 counties have a proud and glorious record of cooperation with teachers, school administrators and other public officials for the betterment of education," Tawes said in his prepared remarks.

"The spirit of cooperation between parents and those who teach and administer our public schools has strongly influenced the trend and scope of public education . . . the joint efforts of the groups likewise have influenced profoundly the decisions of lawmakers, executives and administrators in other areas of government."

"Complete harmony between all groups concerned, regardless of the common ground they reach on stated aims, is, of course, impossible."

"The issues are too complex, too ramified. Clash and conflict, on the contrary, are inevitable under the circumstances."

The governor says he shares wholeheartedly the aims of betterment of education but that "dispute and disagreement about how we are to accomplish these purposes" is to be expected.

Confident Of Future

"But I am sure we will not allow disagreement about means and methods to deflect us from our goals. With intelligence, determination and a spirit of understanding and goodwill, I am confident that we will be able to obtain for every Maryland child the highest advantages in physical, mental, social and spiritual education."

"I pledge my cooperation in this worthy effort. In the position I hold, it is gratifying to know that I can expect the same cooperation from you . . ."

The 1,000 delegates to the 46th Congress earlier heard a description of education in Russia from Mrs. Jennelle Moorhead, first national vice president.

She reported only two per cent of students fall national tests given at the 10th grade level. She added that since teachers are held responsible for failures, they concentrate on preparing students for the exams.

Dr. Robinson Heads Kiwanis

Dr. John J. Robinson Jr., local dentist, was elected president of the Kiwanis Club of Cumberland at the club's weekly luncheon meeting Thursday.

Dr. Robinson has been vice president for the past year. Paul W. Barnett, local trial magistrate, was elected to succeed him as vice president, and Richard W. Kirsch was re-elected treasurer.

The board of directors met after the election and re-elected Albert D. Darby secretary.

Uncashed Checks Removed From Books

A rarely used procedure was followed yesterday by the Allegany County Board of Commissioners in clearing the county's books of some uncashed checks.

The checks were drawn in 1957 and 1958 and totaled $235.41 and were not cashed by the persons who received them. The listing of checks will be taken from the county's books to simplify the bookkeeping in the financial accounts.

Cars Leave B&O Tracks

Two of the four cars from an eastbound B & O Time Saver freight train which left the tracks yesterday afternoon about three miles west of Hyndman, Pa., are seen here after they plowed over the bank. The freight car at left came to rest on its side relatively undamaged. The second car at the top of the bank was torn by the impact, and the uprooted trees in the foreground indicate the force of the impact. Two crew members of the crack freight were slightly injured when the caboose derailed.

Plan Proposed For Clearing Walks Of Snow

A proposed ordinance providing for the removal of snow from sidewalks is being prepared for consideration of the Mayor and Council.

It will be a companion to another proposal which would set up snow emergency routes on main traffic arteries and provides penalties for vehicles which become hung up on the routes if they are not equipped with chains or snow tires.

The snow emergency plan would require drivers to start moving cars from the specified routes as soon as an inch of snow falls, so snow plowing crews could clear the traffic arteries. Normal parking would be allowed as soon as routes are clear.

Under the sidewalk clearing ordinance, occupants, owners or agents of all buildings on streets or alleys must clear sidewalks, so as to provide a pedestrian walkway, within six hours after the fall of any snow.

It would make it unlawful to deposit any snow removed from private property, except sidewalks, on any street or alley.

Fines of not less than $10 are provided for violators, with additional fines of $10 a day for each day snow is left on sidewalks after arrest and conviction.

The ordinance would not allow city magistrates the power to reduce or suspend fines in case of convictions.

Local Students Attending JHU

Ernest R. Kuykendall, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest R. Kuykendall Sr., 819 Mount Royal Avenue, and Randolph W. Kompanek, son of Mr. and Mrs. Rudolph J. Kompanek, 625 Frederick Street, recently began studies at the Johns Hopkins University in Baltimore. Both are engineering majors.

The two young men are honor graduates of Allegany High School, class of 1961, where they were in the honor society, Hi-Y and on the school bowling team. Kompanek was in the school choir, glee club, band, orchestra and dance band, and Kuykendall was advertising manager of the Alchoi Mirror and president of the Latin Club.

Allegany-Garrett County Science Teachers To Meet

Physics teachers and physical science teachers of grades eight to 12 in public schools of Allegany and Garrett counties will meet on Thursday, November 16 at 7:30 p. m. in Beall High School, Frostburg.

Jack A. Petry, supervisor of high schools in Allegany County, reported yesterday that Howard Wayt, transmission engineer of the Chesapeake and Potomac Telephone Company, will present a lecture and demonstration involving the following topics:

Wave machine; "sun to sound" kits; and theory of semi-conductors.

Lewis A. Wheat, state supervisor of high schools, sent letters to Mr. Petry and to Albert Ringler, supervisor of high schools in Garrett County, informing them of the meeting at Beall High.

A native of Frederick, Mr. Wayt attended public schools in Henrico County, Va. near Richmond, got his BS degree in physics at Virginia Polytechnic Institute, and is currently working on an electrical engineering degree at the Johns Hopkins University.

He has been employed by C&P four years and is an amateur radio operator. His hobbies include hi-fi and automobiles.

R. E. Barnard Is Promoted

Robert E. Barnard, a native of Cumberland, has been promoted to superintendent of the fidelity and surety department at the Boston office of The Hartford Insurance Group.

A general partner for 15 years in the Barnes-Barnard-Geare Insurance Agency here, Mr. Barnard has been with the Hartford Company since February, 1960.

He is a son of Mrs. Elizabeth R. Barnard, 879 Braddock Road and is married to the former Miss Josephine W. Williams, also of here.

A World War II veteran of three years' infantry service, he received the Bronze and Silver Stars. Mr. Barnard is active in fraternal and church organizations and the Hartford Group Men's Club. He and his wife and two daughters reside at Folly Point, Cape Anne, Gloucester, Mass.

Local Woman Sentenced For Child Neglect

A local mother of five children was sentenced to one year in the State Reformatory for Women for neglect of two of her minor children yesterday at a hearing in Juvenile Court.

Magistrate Louis A. Fatkin, in sentencing Mrs. Regina Miller, 24, of 36 Bedford Street, stated that as far as he was concerned from reports the court has received about similar cases of mothers neglecting their children, she would "soon have company" at the reformatory.

One man who testified in the case, Richard E. Smith, who gave a Maryland Avenue address, also was tried and sentenced to six months in the House of Correction for non-support of his wife and child.

Two other men involved in the case, one from West Virginia and the other from Pennsylvania, were advised by Magistrate Fatkin to depart immediately for their respective states.

The two children, who were found crying and unattended at the home by a welfare worker, were placed in the custody of the Welfare Board. Mrs. Miller's husband, who was in court, was advised by the magistrate to take care of the three other children of the couple.

Rev. Mr. Price To Preach Here

Rev. Bruce Price, former resident and pastor of Park Place Methodist Church, LaVale, will be guest speaker tomorrow morning at Centre Street Methodist Church.

He is now pastor of Patapsco Methodist Church in Baltimore. Rev. Mr. Price will speak at the 9:30 and 11 a. m. services tomorrow.

He is in his second year at the church in Baltimore which is in the midst of a building program. The congregation's average attendance has grown from 125 to over 300, according to Rev. Mr. Price, who said a new educational building has been built and a new sanctuary will be constructed soon.

Two Men Hurt In Derailement Near Hyndman

Four Cars, Caboose
Leave B & O Tracks

Two members of the crew of an eastbound B & O Time Saver were injured yesterday afternoon when four cars and the caboose in which they were riding left the tracks about three miles west of Hyndman.

Injured were the conductor, Jesse W. Laugherty, 43, of RD 1, Connellsville, Pa., and the flagman, Michael P. Rulli, 53, of 12th Street, Connellsville.

They were brought to Memorial Hospital here for treatment of bruises and abrasions and for x-rays. Both were reported in good condition early last night.

The derailment occurred about 2:10 p. m. as the cars at the rear of the crack B & O freight train left the tracks. The 31-car train originated in Chicago and was bound for New York.

Tool cars from Cumberland were sent to the scene of the wreck. Crews were expected to clear the right of way in a short time.

The wreck occurred on the B & O's Pittsburgh Division.

A railroad official said the derailment did not delay other traffic on the division, as trains were routed over other tracks.

There was no immediate indication of what caused the accident, the second in two days in this area. Early Thursday, B & O tracks were blocked near "tunnel" when 27 cars of a 98-car freight derailed.

The crewmen were brought to the hospital here by the Hyndman Volunteer Fire Company ambulance.

Draftees Can Avert Home Foreclosure

Owners of homes financed by GI mortgage loans who enter military service may be aided by the provisions of the Soldiers and Sailors Civil Relief Act. Sam Weston of the local Veterans Administration office, advised yesterday.

This act makes it possible for the courts, upon proper application, to prevent foreclosure of a loan if the property was acquired prior to entry or re-entry into active military service, and if the service man is unable to meet his payments on his loan due to a reduction in income because of military service.

Those entering service who may not be able to meet the entire amount of their home loan payments because of reduced income are advised by VA upon receipt of notice to report for service to contact the holder of the mortgage, explain the situation and make arrangements to pay as much as they can until released from service.

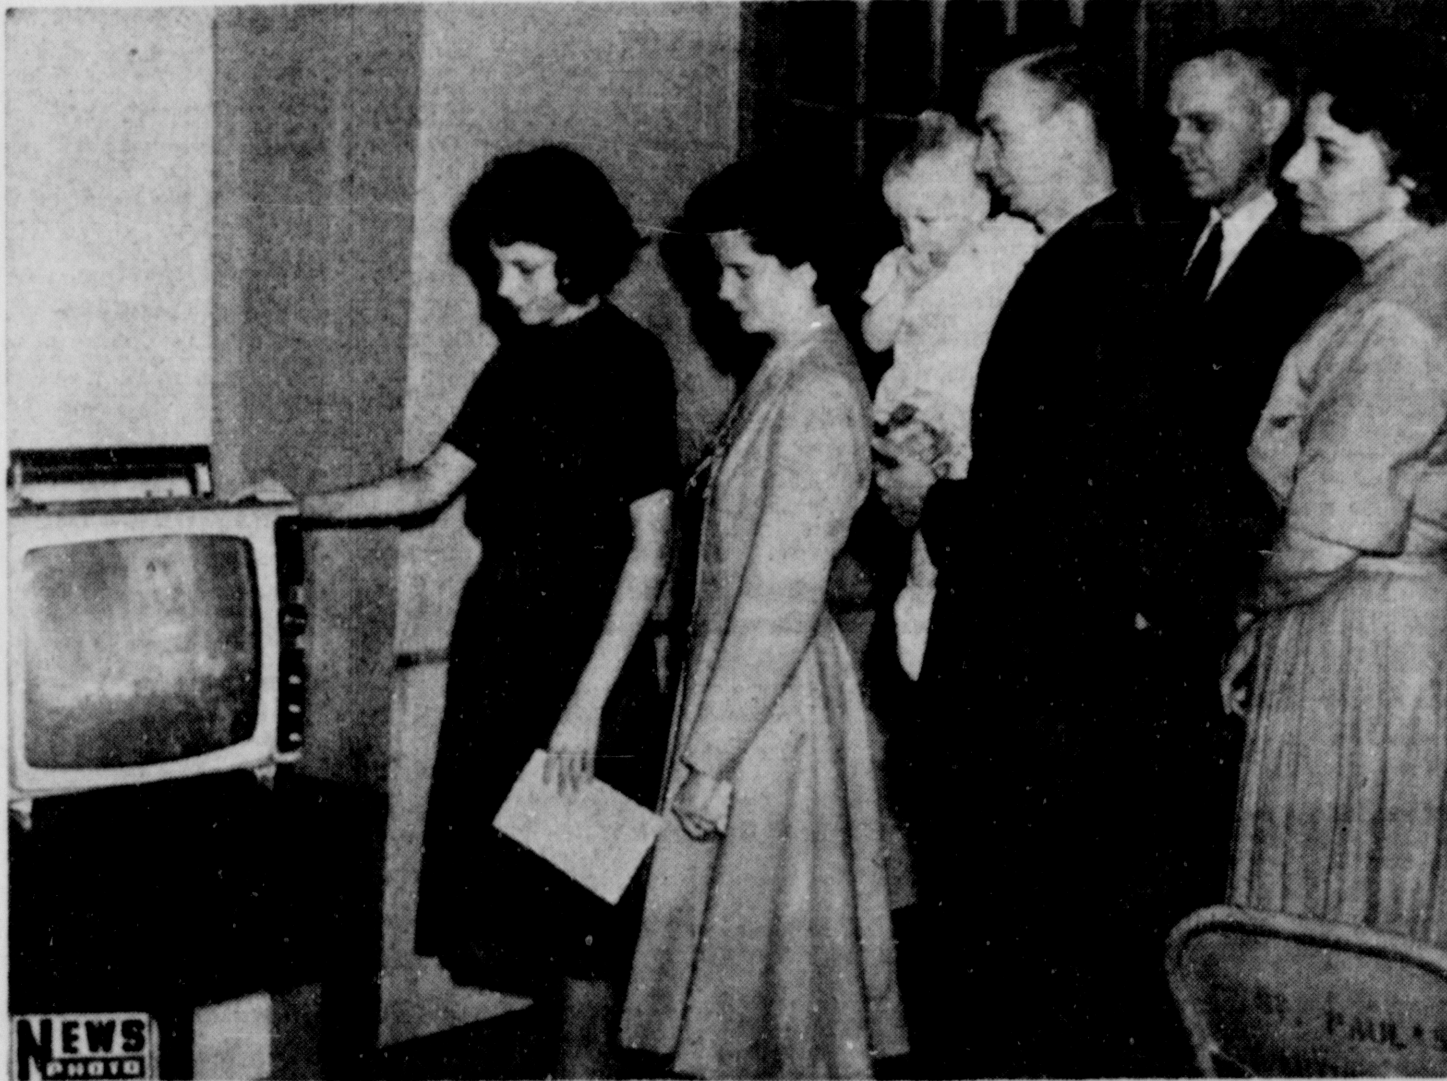

The law does not give the right to stop making payments while in military service. The portion of payment which is postponed by agreement with the holder must be paid later, so arrangements should be made to pay as much as possible while in service.

Mr. Weston said it is not necessary for the serviceman to see the VA about the loan unless it is a direct home loan made by the VA. However, if assistance or advice is needed, concerning this phase of the Civil Relief Act, as well as other benefits administered by the Veterans Administration, it may be obtained at the VA Office located in Room 308, Post Office Building. Office hours are 8:30 a. m. until 5 p. m., Monday through Friday.

Hi-Y Council Meets Sunday

Miss Peggy Groves, Allegany County Council co-president, announces the monthly council meeting will be held this Sunday at 2:30 p.m. in the Lonaconing Presbyterian church with the Valley senior and junior Tri-Hi-Y clubs being the host clubs.

Program chairman Richard White of Fort Hill Hi-Y has lined up a fine talk by a representative of the State Police. Over 200 Hi-Y and Tri-Hi-Y members plan to attend the meeting. The meeting devotions will be handled by Carole Hamner of the Allegany Tri-Hi-Y Club.

Church Service On TV

Expecting overflow crowds for the final service of a Lutheran Evangelism Mission at St. Paul's Lutheran Church, the congregation arranged with Potomac Valley Television Company for closed-circuit TV so those who couldn't get into the church auditorium could watch the service in the fellowship hall. It worked fine, although only a few people made up the TV audience. Looking at screen are Christine Sammel, Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Zadowiak and their 17-month-old son David, and Mr. and Mrs. Martin B. Sharp. The mission has been conducted this week at four churches in Cumberland and Frostburg.

Gosden, Correll Find Home In Animation

By PAUL GERARD

Critics of television—a group slightly larger than the inhabitants of India—claim it is not as effective a news medium as newspapers or radio. Its serious dramatic presentations, they feel, fall short of those in the legitimate theatre. And its westerns, comedies and adventure series get a zero when compared to those turned out by movie makers.

The carpers do like one thing about television—in fact they are so enthusiastic over it (well, most of them), they almost become maudlin. This is the art form of the animated cartoon.

This season has several fresh ideas on the animated cartoon theme, and perhaps the discovery of 1962 in this field will be the lummoxy-type bear named "Calvin" and a sharp-minded, sharp-nosed fox, "The Colonel" who appear fittingly enough in a new ABC-TV series entitled "Calvin and The Colonel" every Tuesday evening, 8:30-9:00 p. m.

The woosy pair are guided by Joe Connelly and Bob Mosher, the producers who gave TV "Leave It To Beaver" and who also have another series, "Ichabod and Me" running in the current TV season. The producing team once received an Academy Award nomination for their movie, "The Private War of Major Benson."

Another plus for "Calvin and The Colonel" in the cartoon league is the men who are the voices for the two animals, Freeman Gosden and Charles Correll, remembered best for "Amos and Andy" on radio for 31 years.

Both the snow-haired Gosden and Correll are millionaires so their return to show business wasn't motivated by financial pressure. Friends indicate the two were just bored and wanted something to do . . . something they could do well. "Calvin and The Colonel" was their brainstorm.

Incidentally, Gosden spoke for the "Kingfish" and "Amos" on the beloved radio show and Correll was the bumbling "Andy Brown."

Also featured are trumpet-voiced Beatrice Kay, she of the Gay 90's ballads, who plays "Sister Sue," and Virginia Gregg, as "Maggie Belle."

FAMILIAR VOICES—Freeman Gosden and Charles Correll, long-time "Amos and Andy," are voices for

"Calvin and the Colonel." Roles of being heard, not seen, are ideal for pair.

Lori Martin Attends 2-Person School

"Imagine attending a school with only one person in it," laughed
Lori Martin, young star of
"National Velvet."
"Well, that's what I do," Lori continued, "and it's fun. You see, there's just Joey Scott, me, and our teacher, of course, and we have our own little classroom right on the set."

Lori explained that sometimes it seems strange to attend school at the studio instead of enrolling in classes near her Burbank, Calif., home.
"I miss my friends from my old school," Lori said, "but I still see them as much as I can on weekends."

Paid Top Compliment

The box boy at a Los Angeles supermarket paid Marie Picerni a nice compliment as she finished shopping for her family of 10.

"Gee, Mrs. Picerni," the boy said as he watched the cash register total the purchases, "you sure got a load of nice groceries for your $118.59."

Say
"Pepsi, please!"
